

Please deny the petition by Bell South for deregulation of ISP service rules. If such a vital communication service as the internet is lost to the vagueries of free market pressures the people who use it will suffer and in the end it will become one more useful tool of the American public that will be denied to the majority over the select few.